5. The Danish Gambling Authority's requirements for reporting game data

6. Gambling:

Betting - online and offline

Casino - online

7.

8. In the orders on online betting, offline betting and online casinos, requirements are laid down for holders of licences to offer online casinos and/or betting to report data on the games they offer. The reporting of the games must reflect games carried out by the players.

The document 'The Danish Gambling Authority's requirements for reporting game data' contains the requirements for which data and in which format data in these areas are to be provided: Fixed-odds betting, casino games, poker cash games, poker tournaments, pari-mutuel games (betting), manager games and jackpot games.

9. The reporting of game data is to be made in a specific data format because otherwise, it is not possible to enter data into the Danish Gambling Authority's gaming control system and the Danish Gambling Authority will be unable to use data for the data-based part of licence holder supervision.

Reference is made to the version history in the documents for the specific changes made in the requirements.

10. References in the original text

Section 33 of the Order on online casinos, Section 29 of the Order on land-based betting and Section 28 of the Order on online betting. Annex 1 to all three orders contains general requirements relating to data reporting. The orders have previously been subject to notification.
