6. The EC’s termination of the TN 2024/0691/CZ (draft Government Regulation on the list of scheduled psychoactive substances) process is based on an incorrect reason. On 18 December, Government Regulation No 419/2024, amending Government Regulation No 463/2013 on schedules of addictive substances, as amended (which, however, was the subject of the TN 2024/0645/CZ process), which is, however, a different regulation.

Therefore, the premise that on 18.12. 2024, a draft government regulation on the list of scheduled psychoactive substances (which is the subject of the TN 2024/0691/CZ process) was published does not apply, nor can it. As stated above, this was a different draft in the context of a different TN process.

An urgent procedure was requested for the draft Government Regulation on the list of scheduled psychoactive substances (which is the subject of the TN 2024/0691/CZ process) so this Regulation could be issued as soon as possible in January and thus subject the substances listed on it to a regime preventing their free availability on the market in the Czech Republic. Each passing day that the Czech Republic cannot publish the draft government regulation on the list of scheduled psychoactive substances thus only prolongs the period during which these substances are unregulated and freely available.

We therefore request the reopening of the incorrectly completed process and an opinion under procedure 2024/0691/CZ (which we forwarded to the EC on 17.12.2024).
