Latest amendment: no amendments

The adoption of General Law 13/2022, of 7 July 2022, on Audiovisual Communication led to the transposition into Spanish law of Directive (EU) 2018/1808 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 14 November 2018 amending Directive 2010/13/EU on the coordination of certain provisions laid down by law, regulation or administrative action in Member States concerning the provision of audiovisual media services.

On the basis of the aforementioned Directive, Law 13/2022 of 7 July was created with the aim of adopting an updated legal framework in line with the evolution that the audiovisual market has undergone in recent years and which allows a balance to be struck between access to content, the protection of users and competition between the different providers in the market, with the inclusion, in a level playing field, of all actors competing for the same audience.

In this sense, Article 39 of Law 13/2022 of 7 July creates a new State Register which, in addition to including audiovisual media service providers, establishes as a new feature the inclusion in the Register of video-sharing platform service providers, audiovisual media-service aggregation service providers and users of particular relevance who use video-sharing platform services, thus broadening the types of providers obliged to register, insofar as they all compete for the same audience in the national audiovisual market.

Thus, as mandated by the aforementioned Article 39(4) of Law 13/2022, of 7 July 2022, this Royal Decree is drawn up with the aim of establishing the organisation and operation of the new State Register, the approval of which entails, in accordance with the ninth final provision of Law 13/2022 of 7 July, the termination of the previous State Register of Audiovisual Media Service Providers, which has remained in force on a transitional basis in accordance with the seventh transitional provision of Law 13/2022, of 7 July 2022, and whose registrations shall be registered ex officio in the new State Register.

Furthermore, Law 13/2022 of 7 July 2022, in order to contribute to greater transparency in the audiovisual sector as a means of protecting the rights of users, requires that users be able to know who are the parties responsible for audiovisual media services, audiovisual media service aggregation services, video-sharing platform services and users of particular relevance who use video-sharing platform services. This information must be provided by the providers to the State Register, along with other information obligations contained in Law 13/2022, of 7 July 2022, and which have been developed in this Royal Decree.

The information contained in the State Register is public, reusable as laid down in Law 37/2007, of 16 November 2007, on reusing public-sector information, and freely accessible through the computer application enabled for this purpose and has the limits set out in Law 19/2013, of 9 December 2013, on transparency, access to public information and good governance, and those derived from the personal data protection regime approved by Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of the European Parliament and of the Council, of 27 April 2016, on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and Organic Law 3/2018 of 5 December on the Protection of Personal Data and the guarantee of digital rights.

In the drafting of this Royal Decree, account was taken of Law 39/2015 of 1 October on the Common Administrative Procedure of Public Administrations and Royal Decree 203/2021, of 30 March 2021, approving the Regulation on the action and operation of the public sector by electronic means, which reinforces electronic processing as a normal means of managing public administrations and which completes the electronic operation of the State Register, which was already included in the previous Royal Decree.

This reinforcement has resulted in the inclusion of the duty all providers, whether legal persons or groups of natural persons that, due to their professional dedication or their technical capacity, have guaranteed access to and the availability of the exact technological means to connect with the State Register using electronic means; also, in connection with the Electronic Register of Powers of Attorney of the General State Administration, or to facilitate compliance with the obligations of the State Register to collaborate and cooperate with other public administrations or international bodies such as the European Commission and the European Audiovisual Observatory.

This Royal Decree presents other new features such as the regulation of the electronic registration sheet as a means of registering entries in electronic form, and the division of the State Register into different sections according to the type of provider since, due to current technological convergence, it is no longer possible to differentiate between audiovisual media service providers that provide only linear services and those that provide non-linear services.

Furthermore, the second task of this Royal Decree is the regulation of the legal regime for the provision of services. In relation to the provision of audiovisual media services, Law 13/2022, of 7 July 2022, maintains the liberalised regime established by Law 7/2010, of 31 March 2010, on General Audiovisual Communication, by which the submission to the competent audiovisual authority of a reliable and prior notification enables the start of the provision, requiring only a licence granted by means of public tender for the provision of television or radio audiovisual media services using terrestrial radio waves.

In the case of audiovisual media-service aggregation service providers, video-sharing platform service providers and users of particular relevance who use video-sharing platform services, the submission of a prior notification to the competent audiovisual authority is not required but they do have a duty to register in the State Register.

With regard to the procedure for submitting the prior notification, the experience accumulated during these years in the processing of this procedure and the approval of Law 39/2015, of 1 October 2015, has led to the introduction of some changes in the regulation of the procedure for submitting the prior notification with respect to the previous Royal Decree.

It is important to note the inclusion of new data to be provided in the procedure for submitting the prior notification of the start of the service provision. And, on the basis of the powers of verification, control and inspection conferred on the competent body, the possibility of requesting the interested party to provide documentation accrediting the service whose provision is to be initiated, in order to combine the flexibility of the legal regime of prior notification as a means of access to the provision of audiovisual media services with the guarantees of proper supervision and control of the national audiovisual market in the current international context.

This Royal Decree develops the procedures for the declaration of prior notification ‘without effects’ and the procedure for loss of provider status, the causes of which are provided for in Law 13/2022 of 7 July and in Article 69 of Law 39/2015 of 1 October.

Also of note as a new feature is the development of certain provisions in the penalty regime for the effective exercise of the power to impose penalties provided for in Law 13/2022 of 7 July 2022, such as the identification of the competent bodies for the inception, investigation and resolution of the procedure.

Finally, within the scope of the collaboration and cooperation of the State Register should be highlighted as a new feature. The provision for the signing of agreements between the competent audiovisual authorities with the aim of interconnecting the State Register and the regional registers, and improving the performance of the tasks entrusted to them. Likewise, the signing of an agreement between the national audiovisual authorities is also provided for, given the interrelationship of the functions entrusted to them.

As regards structure, the Royal Decree consists of 34 articles organised under four titles, a final part composed of two additional provisions, two transitional provisions, one single repealing provision and three final provisions, as well as an annex.

The preliminary title contains the general provisions of the Regulation. Title I regulates the State Register and is structured in two chapters, the first on general provisions and the second on the organisation and operation of the State Register. Title II sets out the procedures initiated before the State Register and is structured in three chapters. The first concerning the procedure for submitting the prior notification of the start of activity. The second on the procedure for registration and modification of registrations. The third concerning the procedure for loss of provider status. Title III regulates the State Register’s administrative collaboration and cooperation activities with other public bodies.

It also includes an annex containing the structure of the State Register, divided into sections and the electronic registration sheet.

Finally, and in accordance with the provisions of Article 129 of Law 39/2015 of 1 October, this Royal Decree has been drawn up in accordance with the principles of necessity, effectiveness, proportionality, legal certainty, transparency and efficiency.

First, the principles of necessity and effectiveness are complied with as this is the regulatory development of Law 13/2022 of 7 July, and an appropriate instrument for contributing towards greater transparency of the audiovisual sector as a means of protecting user rights. The principle of proportionality is also complied with, as this Royal Decree contains the regulation necessary to achieve the objectives that justify its approval.

With regard to the principle of legal certainty, the Royal Decree is consistent with the rest of the national legal system, since it constitutes, together with Law 13/2022 of 7 July, a stable, integrated and clear regulatory framework for the rights and obligations of audiovisual providers subject to the scope of the Regulation. By virtue of the principle of proportionality, the Royal Decree contains the regulation necessary to achieve its aims.

The principle of transparency has also been complied with, through the holding of a public consultation prior to the drafting of the Royal Decree in accordance with Article 26(2) of Law 50/1997, of 27 November 1997, on the Government and through the publication of the draft Royal Decree on the web portal of the Ministry of Digital Transformation, for the purpose of informing all those interested in making their contributions.

Likewise, there has been a public hearing aimed at the audiovisual sector and the autonomous communities, held in accordance with the provisions of Article 26.6 of Law 50/1997, of 27 November 1997, in order to enable them to know the rule, make their contributions and, ultimately, improve this Royal Decree. Likewise, the reports of the National Commission of Markets and Competition, the Council of Consumers and Users and the Spanish Agency for Data Protection have been collected.

Lastly, in relation to the principle of efficiency, efforts have been made to ensure that the Regulation generates the lowest administrative burdens for those obliged to comply with it, as well as the lowest indirect costs, promoting the rational use of public resources and full respect for the principles of budgetary stability and financial sustainability.

This Royal Decree has been subject to the procedure provided for in Directive (EU) 2015/1535 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 9 September 2015 laying down a procedure for the provision of information in the field of technical regulations and of rules on Information Society services, as well as the provisions of Royal Decree 1337/1999 of 31 July regulating the provision of information in the field of technical standards and regulations and of rules on Information Society services.

This Royal Decree is issued under the provisions of Articles 149(1)(21) and 149(1)(27) of the Constitution, and the authorisation for the regulatory development of Law 13/2022 of 7 July 2022, contained in Articles 18(1), 20 and 39(4) and in the seventh final provision of the aforementioned Law.

By virtue thereof, on the proposal of the Minister of Digital Transformation, with the prior approval of the Minister for Finance and the Civil Service, in agreement with the Council of State, and after deliberation of the Council of Ministers at its meeting on 19 December 2023.
